EZBadges-Online, On Time, On Budget!

Does your organization need to issue ID badges? Is the cost and hassle of purchasing and maintaining your own card issuance system too burdensome?

If so, EZBadges.com is a great alternative way to get professional quality badges without all the cost and hassle associated with traditional badge printing systems.

EZBadges is a Web-based ID badge creation tool that gives you the ability to design your own custom ID badges, create and maintain a badge holder database, upload badge holder photos, and send badge orders to our facility for printing—and it's all done online with no special software or equipment to purchase, install, and maintain.

How can I make great-looking custom ID cards and not spend a small fortune on the equipment?

Make your badges online at EZBadges.com! Using EZBadges, you pay a small fee per card with no need to purchase and maintain your own badge printing system.

Our company has facilities all across the country. How can I get personalized ID badges for our employees quickly and easily without installing a badge printer at each location?

EZBadges.com is perfect for organizations with members spread across multiple locations. Because it is a web-based service, you have access to badge creation where ever you have access to the Internet. Each facility will be able to order their own ID badges and have them sent directly to their location without the need to install expensive equipment at each site.

We need badges that will work with our security and timekeeping systems. Can I produce cards with barcodes and/or magnetic stripe encoding at ezbadges.com?

Yes! At EZBadges.com you can design your badges to include barcodes and magnetic stripe encoding.

On-site badging systems can be complex to install and maintain. Is there an easy-to-use system that doesn't require extensive operator training?

Maintaining your own ID badging system can require a significant amount of financial and human resources. Besides keeping the printer clean and properly maintained, you must also keep your staff well trained and make sure you keep adequate printing supplies in stock.

With EZBadges.com, there is no special software to install, no supplies to keep stocked, and no printers to maintain. Your custom badges are designed online using your Web browser—and we do the printing for you.
